HICKORY FLAT.

Regular correspondence.]

Noah Wright has moved to the Hop Kee place.

Just ask Judge Penick how he enjoys riding a mustang!

Rains have come, and we may as well bid farewell to good roads until summer comes again.

Mr. and Mrs. Bunn Wyatt of Carroll County visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Melton, Sunday.

Mrs. Daisie Jordan and Miss Eva Holland visited friends and relatives in the Cowell's Chapel community Sunday.

HICKORY FLAT, December 6.

BALL'S POINT.

Regular correspondence.]

Tom Waters has moved out near Big Sandy.

Ties are going into the river with great speed.

T. A. Rushing went to Big Sandy on business Saturday.

Dock Benton has just closed his school at this place.

A. Ball says he has a $175 mule for the market. Pardon the expression, but it must be a daisy.

The peanut crop has turned out very good, and as prices are good they are being marketed as rapidly as possible.

BALL'S POINT, December 6.

LOW RAILROAD RATES FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

A rate of a fare and a third for the round trip (minimum rate 50 cents) has been authorized by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway for the Christmas holidays. Tickets on sale December 23, 24, 25 and 31, 1904, and January 1, 1905, to principal points in the Southwest, including St. Louis, Mo. Final limit of tickets January 4, 1905.

JUDGMENT FOR MAJ. STAHLMAN.

Nashville Banner.

A judgment was entered on Monday last in the circuit court of Nashville, Tenn., against the News Publishing Company and T. Buford Goodwin, editor of the News, in favor of Maj. E. B. Stahlman for $1,200 and costs.

This suit grew out of a publication in the Nashville Daily News of an article reflecting upon E. B. Stahlman, which sought to revive and magnify the various forms of attacks previously made upon Mr. Stahlman by newspapers, political enemies and persons misled or unfriendly to him.

Mr. Stahlman had in print and otherwise said comparatively little respecting the previous attacks upon him, but determined when they came in the form indicated in the News article, embracing as it did in substance and effect every form of criticism and abuse formerly heaped upon him, to submit to such indignities no longer, and hence promptly brought the suit in question.

The suit was not brought by Mr. Stahlman for pecuniary gain, but simply and only as a means of vindication. The judgment, therefore, calls only for a sufficient sum to Mr. Stahlman's attorney's fees and the costs. The case has been pending for over two years, and when the day for trial was finally set and the case about to be tried, the defendants submitted to a judgment. The decree of the court, among other things, said:

"This action for libel is grounded on an article published by the Nashville Daily News, a newspaper published and owned by the News Publishing Company, a corporation, in its issue of July 29, 1902.

"After diligent effort, the defense is unable to find proof to sustain the said article—its allegations or inferences and implications from the same—and is constrained to admit that the plaintiff is a person of honesty, honor and integrity and that the article is libelous per se and that the plaintiff has sustained damage therefrom and is entitled to recover in this action."

The case as to Defendants H. M. Dudley and John M. Gray, jr., who were at the time of the publication the owners of the News, and when having "disclaimed all agency in or connection with the writing or publication of said article," was dismissed.

While the decree is gratifying to Mr. Stahlman's friends, those who understand and know him best have never looked for any other result.

RESOLUTIONS OF SYMPATHY AND RESPECT.

The following resolutions in regard to the death of Robert L. Phillips were adopted at the Sunday school of the M. E. Church, South, last Sunday:

We, your committee, appointed to draft resolutions of sympathy and respect on the death of our late brother, Robert L. Phillips, would respectfully report as follows:

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom saw fit on the 11th day of November, 1904, to take from us and his devoted wife and children our brother, Robert L. Phillips, thereby making vacant a place in our church and casting sadness and gloom over a home; and

Whereas, its not within human power to bind up broken hearts, but can and do extend our profoundest sympathy, and heartily commend one of his many noble traits of character to the sorrowing ones, that of "Doing well whatsoever you do," therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Church and Sunday School, collectively and individually, that we extend to his bereaved wife and sorrowing relatives our deep sympathy in this their hour of grief and sadness, and may He who has the power to take away tenderly care for the fatherless and guide the footsteps of the widowed mother, and may she find consolation in knowing that after awhile all tears shall be wiped away, the trials of life will be over and that she may cross over and rest under the shade of the trees.

Resolved, further, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and that a copy be furnished the wife of the deceased and one to each of the county papers.

A. S. JUSTICE,
J. V. TRAVIS.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They can not, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain" but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale at J. G. Presson's drugstore.

OUR NEW BANK.

The most enterprising step that Camden and Benton County has taken in many years is the opening of our new bank, a bank owned and controlled by the people of Benton County.

Everybody should be proud of this new enterprise, which speaks well for the financial condition of the county, and insures the people against extortion that might be practiced where there is only one bank in the county.

The new bank has already been a great saving to people holding checks on banks in the adjoining counties. Everybody should join in the support of such an institution. "A bank for the people by the people."

If you have money not in use, put it in the bank. The bank will loan it and put it in circulation and you can check on the amount when you wish, making the same amount answer both purposes. This is the way to make money circulate and times good. **
